- ATOMIC POP- Sister store of Atomic Books around the corner with a large collection of design books and pop gifts.
- CHELLÉ PAPERIE– The paper wall is enough to bring tears to this book-binders eyes. An array of beautiful paper products. Their motto: “style like this isn’t mass produced.”
- DOUBLE DUTCH– Cute and funky clothing and accessories that won’t break the bank, many by local artisans. The friendly interior is a perfect compliment to the products. Every first Friday night of the month they sponsor a “Shopper’s Social” with DJ, drinks and 10% discount on everything in the store. (This is one of our favorite shops!)
- FORM, A DESIGNER’S BOUTIQUE – Amazing fabrics and designers, we’d buy everything in this store if only we could afford it. Perfect for special occasions or a splurge.
- GILAH PRESS– Kat Feuerstein’s, a MICA graduate, is the force behind this local letterpress studio. The space is welcoming and nurtures many creative impulses. Housing multiple presses and everything a printer would need to create the exact card or invitation you were hoping for. Open by appointment only.
- HOMETOWN GIRL & CO– If you’re determined to bring back a souvenir, this is the place to do it with true Baltimore flavor. Crabs and pink flamingoes [seriously, Baltimore is the home to director John Waters whose repertoire includes the films “Pink Flamingos” and “Hairspray”] are aplenty. And if you need a break from shopping, stop by the nostalgia filled soda fountain in the back.
- IN WATERMELON SUGAR (3555 Chestnut Ave)– A wonderland of items for the bath, kitchen and bedroom that will turn any house into a home.
- MA PETITE SHOE– Chocolate + shoes, need we say more?
- MILAGRO (1005 West 36th St) – Vibrant shop where Frida Kahlo and Dia De Muertos come alive through jewelry, clothes, bags and knick-knacks.
- MINÁS (815 W 36th St) – Vintage clothing downstairs, art gallery upstairs.
- OAKENSHAW ANTIQUES– Nineteenth and 20th century “antiques” with a twist of retro.
- PARADISO (1015 W 36th St) – A quality mixture of new and old furniture with great accessories and lamps for that added charm. Showcasing the works of both national and local artists and designers.
- RED TREE– A constantly changing showroom of “goods from around the world and around the corner.”
